

Breaking the Silence. Ending Teen Dating Violence.

A Message from the President - Terry Glass

As we step into November, I find myself reflecting on the incredible journey Rianna's Voice has taken over the past year. From speaking to students in middle and high schools, to connecting with parents and guardians, to hosting community events that raise awareness, every conversation we've had has made a difference in shining a light on teen dating violence.

October was a particularly meaningful month. We were honored to participate in Domestic Violence Awareness Month events, engage with local students at Raub, Harrison-Morton, and South Mountain Middle Schools, and join the Northampton County District Attorney's Office discussion panel. These opportunities reminded me of the power of sharing stories, listening, and educating — and of the profound impact that awareness can have in preventing abuse before it starts.

Our Friday Night Flashlight Corn Maze for a Cause drew an amazing 673 people — possibly a new record for Seiple Farms! Seeing so many come together to stand against teen dating violence was truly inspiring. Each person who attended helped amplify our message that we will not tolerate abuse, and that together, we can create change.

Looking ahead to November and the coming months, I am grateful for the continued support from our volunteers, donors, schools, and community partners. Together, we are creating a safe space for teens to speak up, for parents to find guidance, and for survivors to know they are not alone. Events like our upcoming breakfast fundraiser, car show and bingo in 2026 are not just fundraisers—they are moments where our community can come together to celebrate, connect, and continue the mission that Rianna inspired.

Thank you for standing with Rianna's Voice, for helping amplify awareness, and for ensuring that every teen knows their voice matters. With your support, we continue to break the silence, foster healthy relationships, and honor Rianna's legacy each and every day. ❤️
